ACEP Approval Requirements

ACEP status is granted by NBCC to eligible providers demonstrating compliance with all ACEP provider and program requirements, including all applicable terms of the NBCC Continuing Education Provider Policy (Policy). NBCC retains the sole authority to determine if a provider qualifies for ACEP status.

If granted ACEP status, the approved provider is authorized to offer NBCC credit for qualifying programs in the approved delivery format.

The guiding principle and operational goal of the NBCC ACEP application process is to identify qualified continuing education providers that are able to offer qualifying programs consistent with the requirements of Policy. ACEP status is limited to organizations and individuals that can function independently and have the resources to satisfy all Policy requirements.

ACEP Status Eligibility Requirements

In order to qualify for ACEP status, a Provider must satisfy all NBCC ACEP eligibility requirements, including the following:

- (a). The applicant currently develops and presents continuing education programs that would qualify for credit under the policy.
- (b). The applicant must sufficiently demonstrate that the organization or individual offers and presents at least two different live programs or one home study program that would qualify for NBCC credit under the policy.
- (c). The applicant must designate an authorized representative to serve as ACEP administrator. Among other responsibilities, the ACEP administrator serves as the primary contact person for NBCC concerning all ACEP program matters.
- (d). The applicant must designate a qualified representative to serve as the program administrator. The program administrator must hold an advanced degree in a mental health field from an accredited educational institution. The program administrator is responsible for assuring that the content of all provider programs offering NBCC credit and the qualifications of all program presenters satisfy the requirements of the policy. The program administrator may also serve as the ACEP administrator.
- (e). The applicant must submit a complete ACEP application, including all required information, materials, and fees. All ACEP application materials become the property of NBCC, and fees are not refundable.
- (f). The applicant must not display any statement concerning NBCC approval or status prior to written notification of approval from NBCC.

Application Instructions and Checklist for Providers Seeking Live Event Delivery Format Approval

The Provider (the applicant) must sufficiently demonstrate that it previously planned and implemented a live program that qualifies for credit under the NBCC Continuing Education Provider Policy. Implementation includes but is not limited to: advertising the program, registering participants, allowing program evaluation, distributing certificates of completion, and verifying attendance. Note: Although Policy requires that the Provider offer and present at least two different live programs that would qualify for NBCC credit, for purposes of the application, NBCC requests specific documentation pertaining to one past live program that would qualify for NBCC credit. NBCC reserves the right to request documentation pertaining to a second live program that would qualify for credit.

The Provider must submit the following documents to be considered for Live Event Delivery Format approval:

1. A complete and accurate Attachment A for one live event program previously offered by the Provider. If the Provider offered the program multiple times, Attachment A should list the program date for only one offering and provide the documents listed below relative to the listed program date.
2. Brochure, agenda, and other promotional/registration materials used for the program listed on Attachment A
3. A blank program evaluation form used for the program listed on Attachment A.
4. An evaluation summary for the program listed on Attachment A. Participant personal identifiable information must not be included.
5. Presenter Qualification Form(s) accurately identifying all program presenters, including the qualifications (education, degrees, experience, training, credentials) of each presenter relevant to the subject matter.
6. A copy of a certificate of completion that was distributed to participants for the program listed on Attachment A. The participant's name must not be included.

Application Instructions and Checklist for Providers Seeking Home Study Delivery Format Approval

The Provider (the applicant) must sufficiently demonstrate that it offers at least one home study program that qualifies for credit under the NBCC Continuing Education Provider Policy. The Provider must submit a home study program that is fully functional. The applicant must ensure that all program materials do not infringe upon any privacy or intellectual rights of any other party. All program materials, audiovisual and print, must be of professional quality in content and appearance.

The Provider must submit the following documents to be considered for Home Study Delivery Format approval:

1. A completed copy of Attachment B for one of the Provider's home study programs.
2. The advertising and registration materials for the program listed on Attachment B, including all information required by Policy Section C.15. Registration materials should include any prerequisites necessary to satisfy the program registration requirements.
3. A blank program evaluation form for the program listed on Attachment B.
4. Presenter Qualification Form(s) accurately identifying all program presenters/authors listed on Attachment B, including the qualifications (education, degrees, experience, training, credentials) of each presenter relevant to the subject matter.

5. A sample of the certificate of completion for the program listed on Attachment B. The participant's name must not be included.
6. The program learning materials, such as text-based, audiovisual, or web-based materials, for the program listed on Attachment B.
7. All necessary URLs, usernames, and passwords for complete review of the program listed on Attachment B.
8. An explanation of the credit measurement calculation used to determine the amount of NBCC credit that would be offered for the program listed on Attachment B. Include the length of each recording and/or accurate word count of all text-based learning materials and then convert the recorded time and/or word count to NBCC credit hours. This explanation must demonstrate compliance with Policy Section I.4.
9. An assessment instrument for the program listed on Attachment B prepared by a professional with an advanced degree in a mental health field and intended to evaluate the participant's knowledge of the program material.
10. A reference list accurately identifying all source materials used to prepare the program listed on Attachment B, such as professional journal articles or books.
